Dear Parents,

As part of Road Safety Week, Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) John Campion is proud to be launching his mini police poster competition.

Through his Safety West Mercia Plan, the PCC is committed to reducing harm on our roads and wants to ensure children get to school safely.

As such, the PCC is launching a poster designing competition to understand what road safety looks like to young people and asking young people to demonstrate “how I get to school safely”?

Winning schools will get a “mini police officer” sign that can be placed outside school to remind road users to “Slow down” or “Think before you park”.

The deadline for entries is Friday December 8th.December.

Photos of the children making their posters can be included.

We look forward to seeing what the children create.

Any questions do not hesitate to contact me.
